

Kevin Shrum

Kevin has been a Professor of Organizational Leadership with Regis University since 1998, facilitating many of the online and classroom courses in the M.S.O.L. curriculum. In addition to his Regis duties, he is a business, medical, and general education instructor at the Institute of Business and Medical Careers in Fort Collins, teaching many different general and technical courses.

His varied work and experiential history includes a 23-year career in the U. S. Air Force medical service, with a variety of duty assignments in direct patient care, department management, and executive leadership positions in several health care facilities. Since his retirement from the military in 1994, he has been a health system management development specialist, an independent management consultant, a financial planner/investment advisor, and a financial services training instructor for a credit union system.

Kevin's academic background includes a Bachelor of General Studies degree with a minor in business administration, and he holds a dual-major Master's degree in Organizational Management and in Computer Information.